SPECIAL FOCUS - "ANNUAL CHANGEMAKERS' CONCLAVE 2025"

Mahashakti Foundation hosted its Annual Changemakers' Conclave 2025, "Impact 360° | Reflect, Rethink, Rise", from 27th-29th May 2025 at Wildberry Hotels & Resorts, Puri.

The three-day Conclave brought together staff, board members, trustees, and sector experts to deepen the shared commitment to long-term development. From the ceremonial lighting of the lamp to the concluding quiz, participants engaged in self-exploration, strategic planning and practical learning designed to amplify our collective impact.

On the first day, the participants embarked on a journey of reflection and mission alignment. In the first session, everyone was engaged in the "Who Am I?" identity exercise, sharing personal reflections and mapping how individual values connect to Mahashakti's vision. Further, through guided discussions on outputs, outcomes and impact, the members learned how to integrate impact thinking into every project from Day One. By day's end, the members had refined their own project plans to include SMART goals, clear indicators and participatory monitoring mechanisms.

Day 2 unfolded with a lively quiz. It was followed by sector experts - Dr. Ramesh Chandra Biswal (Founder & CEO, VillaMart Pvt. Ltd.) and Mr. Sujaya Kar (Ex-Joint CEO, ORMAS), who guided the staff on enterprise-specific strategies, from vegetable clusters to artisan collectives. Through interactive exercises, participants sketched convergence pathways, explored value-addition and packaging innovations, and examined how digital marketplaces and e-commerce platforms can expand earnings for small-scale producers while generating new opportunities. There were break-out sessions for farm and off-farm enterprises to get in-depth insights on sectorspecific challenges faced by the staff members. The day also featured sessions on financial transparency, compliance, and strong HR processes, and a workshop on strategic branding.

The final morning's focus on personal value systems preceded the masterclasses on the Logical Framework Approach and digital MIS platforms. Participants explored causal mapping, custom KPIs and real-time dashboards via the Social Integration Platform (Digital Project Management MIS), ensuring that Mahashakti's projects stay transparent and that holistic monitoring is practised.

Mahashakti Foundation reaffirms its dedication to empowering tribal and rural communities across Odisha. Heartfelt thanks to our resource persons, trustees and every team member whose contributions made this Conclave a turning point in our journey towards equitable growth.

SUCCESS STORY

Sumitra Majhi, a 30-year-old Saura artisan from Lanjigarh, Kalahandi, represents the endurance and talent of one of Odisha's most prominent tribal communities. Her artistic journey began in 2018. She was driven by a lifelong passion for Saura motifs and committed herself to learning the strokes and symbols that define this art form. She immersed herself daily in sketching and painting, determined to transform her creativity into both cultural expression and a source of livelihood.

Due to financial hardships, Sumitra was forced to leave formal education, but she went on to support her family through her craft. Despite limited resources and social challenges, she polished her technique by studying local elders' work and practicing tirelessly. Within a few years, her detailed depictions of tribal narratives and natural elements caught local attention. Her dedication paid off, and she quickly rose to the top of Kalahandi's artisan rankings, earning respect and recognition across the district.

A pivotal turning point came when Sumitra joined Project Adikala, a Vedanta CSR initiative in Lanjigarh. This partnership opened doors to structured training, access to quality materials, and opportunities to exhibit beyond her village. Project Adikala provided her with mentorship & market exposure. She showcased her craft at state as well as national-level fairs and cultural events across Odisha and India. Her growing portfolio of exhibitions culminated in a high-profile invitation to the Utkal Chamber of Commerce and Industry LTD (UCCIL) Global Trade Show – Resurgent Odisha, by Vedanta Aluminium, where she painted a Saura tattoo on the hands of Odisha Chief Minister Shri Mohan Majhi.

Now, Sumitra has become both an artist and a teacher. In her hometown, she leads workshops for aspiring Saura practitioners, imparting techniques and building a supportive network among young artisans. Her sessions inspire many to pursue art as a sustainable livelihood option. Meanwhile, invitations such as the welcome ceremony for Hindustan Zinc's Chairperson Priya Hebbar at Vedanta Lanjigarh highlighted the broader recognition of her craft and the impact of corporate-community collaboration in nurturing grassroots talent.

Sumitra Majhi's story is a testament to the transformative power of perseverance and passion. From the hardships she faced to the accolades that celebrate her mastery, she has demonstrated how one individual's dedication can uplift an entire art community. Her contributions to Saura art are invaluable, and her role as a mentor is shaping the future of this age-old craft, ensuring it continues to evolve while staying rooted in tradition.
